Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I worked as a seasonal park ranger and did very basic maintenance to keep the park going. When I worked as the parts salesman at a powersports dealership, I learned about diagrams and specific part numbers. As a correctional officer, I have learned and use communication skills to work as a team, and also communicate effectively with people that definitely do not see eye to eye with me.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I've done quite a lot of fourwheeling and rode motorcycles, so I like to work on my machines a little bit, and have some basic mechanical skills.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Well, I'm currently a Correctional Officer, but I'm looking for a career change. My father in law is a contractor now, and used to be an Operating Engineer. He's shown me that the trades can be an excellent option. I know I am interested in a trade that can be done year-round, and plumbing seems to hold the most interest for me.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It is an attractive option because it will help me develop all of the skills that I don't have yet and need to learn. I currently have state benefits and a retirement pension, and for me to feel confident switching careers, I don't want to give up those things. Joining as a union apprentice will allow me to have these things and get paid a decent wage while

The last four years I worked in landscaping. I learned some basic pipe skills such as sprinklers but nothing more. Before that I worked in a bar where I washed dishes. I worked with many plumbing and drainage systems. Learned how to prevent backup and clogs and troubleshoot problems.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I enjoy spending time outside working, hunting, and fishing. I also enjoy the gym and know how to work hard and can endure hard work. Spent many years working landscaping and very experienced in hard work and working in hard elements.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Spent a year in college and wasn't the right fit. I have always been handy and grew up learning different types of construction. Talked to a few people and learned more about plumbing and became very interested.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I would love to learn mostly hands on but also enjoy some book work. I enjoy seeing skill development and learning more about hand on activities such as plumbing.

I have experience with my latest employer where I have been tasked with demolition and getting an insight to the remodeling of main stacks, bathrooms, and kitchens. I also recently was tasked with installing sump pumps that were draining salt water onto roads & being sprayed onto sidewalks and driveways with a hose attachment. They were all battery powered and had to also be wired up. I used pex for all of it and did around 4-5 installations on trailers & trucks.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

A plumbing apprenticeship has been an attractive option for me because of the hands-on work, the planning and the ability to always have something new to learn. The hands-on work keeps me very engaged and focused on the task at hand. The planning process helps me with being able to find solutions by imagining or drawing how my project should turn

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Some of my hobbies and activities consist of fishing, gaming, & hiking or nature walks. With fishing and gaming there's a lot of on-the-spot problem solving involved. Examples consists of trying to figure out if a tool you're using is faulty or being more attentive to detail. Hiking and nature walks has helped me get extremely used to working outside and constantly being on my feet. Has helped me adapt to constant new job sites instead of being at the same workplace every day.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My interest in plumbing began at my previous employer where we began remodeling houses during the winter. Was in charge of most demolition projects. I got to take apart plumbing systems for basements mostly and got more interested as I began to see the plumbers do their restoration. Because of this I began to take Preparatory Plumbing at MATC. I learned about some code, threading, soldering, and applied drawing. I also did general classes like welding, math, OSHA, & English.

It has taught me skills like organization, mechanical skills, problem solving, tool knowledge and many more things that can benefit me in a trade job.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always liked working with my hands and figuring out how things work, so the trades are a good fit for me. I'm mechanically inclined and plumbing stood out to me because it's such an important part of any home or building.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

A plumbing apprenticeship is attractive to me because it's a hands-on way to learn a valuable trade while getting real world experience

When I was in HVAC I would frequently work on new homes. I would work in the same area as plumbers and electricians frequently. I picked up some knowledge on pipe cutting, water line installation, and conduit installation. I made myself familiar with the type of work and people that the trades require.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I have many skills that will transfer to the construction trades. My background in IT has made me an efficient problem solver. I pay close attention to detail no matter what task is at hand. IT requires patience and perseverance which will also work well for this industry. My basic knowledge of HVAC will transfer as well. I have experience in gas lines, PVC exhaust, drain lines, low voltage electric, and ductwork installation.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Trades have always interested me. I did a little bit of time doing HVAC installs, and that sparked my curiosity about other trades. I enjoy pipes, cables, and running lines. My background in IT and installs will help with the troubleshooting and problem solving that this career takes.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Learning a new trade while being able to support my family is something that I desire. I am always eager to learn new skills. I believe that being an apprentice is a great way to get my foot in the door, start my formal career, learn new skills and techniques, and help the community.

Plumbing interests me because I believe plumbers are some of the most hardworking people. I believe they are underappreciated. I want to make a change to that by associating myself as a professional plumber and making a difference in the community. I understand that the job conditions may not be great, but it gives me much motivation to look forward to a career so that one day I can look back and see all that I've

I work at a restaurant right now and it's taught me how you have to manage time when you're trying to get it done as quick as possible.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always been interested in how things work and plumbing is just something that has me interested. Plumbing is a mix of being practical and using problem solving skills to fix a leaky pipe or installing a new system. There's also a lot of growth and job security I would feel and the more you learn the better it'll be and that's my main goal.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It's a career path that rewards hard work and the people who are willing to work hard and succeed will also succeed. I also like the detail of it and there's so much to learn that excites me.

Stick - Some Knowledge

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

During middle school and high school I was in multiple different math clubs, I'm the best at angles, geometry, and algebra. I also work with my dad whenever I can to learn more about plumbing.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

For the past 10 years I've been helping my dad, carrying tools back and forth from the van, holding flashlights, tightening pvc, stuff like that. I've also spent 2 years at a culvers location which helped me grow my skills in customer service.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

All my life my dad has been a plumber, he started with a small company and recently started his own. I've been working with him for almost 10 years so this is really all I've ever known. I'm extremely good at math so plumbing has always seemed like the perfect career for me.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

All my life I've been looking forward to being a licensed plumber focused on service work to help my community, an apprenticeship is the first step to that career.

Relevant Experience Level:

A little. No specific trade experience, but I have general skills in construction or welding.

I have many years of experience in the fire/water restoration industry. Additionally, I like to figure out how to fix things around the house. I like working with my hands and the variety of different job sites.

Pipe Welding Proficiency:

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I have worked for 7 years in fire and water restoration, in Milwaukee for Paul Davis and in Tucson for Service Master. I started in demo but worked up to running the jobs and quoting estimates to the customers. Because of my good communication skills, the companies I worked for would often send me out to meet with potential customers and also update them throughout the job.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Being a plumber is a great career with a useful skill that can be used in many areas of life. Of all the trades, I think plumbing is a great match with my skills that I obtained working in fire/water restoration. I have 7 years experience in fire/water restoration and worked closely with plumbers on many jobs. They all encouraged me to apply to the apprenticeship. I am a hard worker and learn quickly. Plumbing is always on demand and a recession-proof career. I like the variety of work and think I'd be a great asset to the plumber's union.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It is a stable career with interesting work and great benefits. I have several friends who are in the trades, particularly in plumbing, and they are very satisfied with their careers. I like that I get paid to learn while on the job site and look forward to the classroom time as well.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

My primary hobby is automotive repair. When working on cars precision, attention to detail, and problem solving are essential when repairing or improving vehicles, much like the planning and execution required in plumbing or construction projects.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

In auto body repair, I developed strong problem solving abilities and an eye for detail, which are essential when diagnosing and fixing issues with vehicle structures. These skills translate well into the pipe trades where precision and troubleshooting are key to ensuring proper installation and maintenance of plumbing systems.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I have a strong passion for hands on work and problem solving. Whether it's troubleshooting a leak, installing piping, or ensuring proper water flow, the challenge of finding solutions in real time and making a difference is what motivates me. Due to previous experience in auto body repair I am drawn to the hands on nature of the profession and the opportunity to learn new skills and apply them to a lifelong career.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship in plumbing is important to me because it offers the opportunity to gain hands on experience while learning from skilled professionals in the field. I believe the practical training is essential for mastering the technical aspects of plumbing.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

Currently in my industrial maintenance internship position I have been introduced to mig welding and I think will be doing more projects involving that. But besides that I don't have skills applicable to piping trades.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Not many of my hobbies relate directly to construction skills. The hobbies I do partake in are going to the gym, backpacking, boating, fishing and spending time outside. As well as indulge in historical content that I find interesting like the Civil War and WW2.

I think the skills that indirectly affect me in the construction trades would be my work ethic, commitment to activities and work, and willingness to learn new skills and knowledge.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My great uncle was a master plumber so I've always thought it was an interesting career. I'm currently doing an industrial maintenance internship and I'm finding the work very rewarding and interesting which has been motivating me even more to pursue a career in plumbing.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I really like to learn in a hands on and real world environment. I also like to be productive and complete tasks. I think an apprenticeship would teach me a lot learning under someone with experience that I may not be able to learn in a full time classroom environment.

I did one year at college to see if there was anything there for me but didn't find anything that compelling, and knew deep down that I would be happy looking for a career in the trades. I'm a very hard worker and easy to teach so I think I'd be a good fit as an apprentice.

One of my previous jobs, working as a material handler for Uline, taught me many skills applicable to the trades. Uline taught me to have great attention to detail. I am well aware that having good attention to detail will ensure success in the pipe trades. Uline taught me to work well under pressure to meet deadlines which I know I will have in the trades. I also acquired a safety first work ethic from Uline, always ensuring I was following safety protocols and keeping the work environment safe. I will be able to easily apply that skill to the trades, because I know safety is a priority at jobsites.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Having the opportunity to partake in an apprenticeship is an attractive option for me because of all the benefits that come from it. I will get payed while I am learning, which is something that I can appreciate. Since I am a hands on learner, I believe that an apprenticeship would be a perfect fit for me.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Some of my hobbies consist of fixing things around the house, and completing DIY projects. I have a close family member, who has 15+ years in the trades, that I help out with some of his work. I like to stay busy, and I try to constantly learn how things work so that I can do it myself rather than paying someone else to do it.

While I have no professional experience in the trades, I believe I have what it takes to learn. My previous experience in warehouses have molded me to work well under pressure, and to have a good work ethic. I know that careers in the trades, specifically plumbing, are challenging, but I am more than willing to take on the challenge.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I am interested in becoming a plumber because I enjoy working with my hands and solving practical problems. Plumbing offers a unique combination of technical skill and problem-solving, and I find the process of diagnosing and fixing issues both challenging and rewarding. Furthermore, I am looking for a career that offers job stability, and I know I can have that with plumbing.

Another reason I'm drawn to plumbing is the opportunity to continuously learn and grow. Plumbing also allows for variety in the work, from residential projects to commercial installations, keeping the workday fresh and exciting. Overall, becoming a plumber feels like a practical and fulfilling career choice that aligns with my skills and aspirations.

My dad was a plumber, and I was always interested in the trade. I currently work a desk job and it's not fulfilling for me, I want to be active. My dad would always point out buildings that he had helped work on. I love that your hard work really does pay off.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I typically am not a fan of school, I tried going to MATC and doing some prerequisite classes. I didn't enjoy learning about something that didn't seem like it was necessarily relevant to what I want to do as a career. The type of course work that I would be doing as an apprentice would actually intrigue me. I love to learn hands on.

Bartending helped me learn how to work in a fast paced environment that consistently changes. Has also helped me learn how to communicate effectively with others.

Business sales has taught me how to work and communicate specifically with customers and figuring out their needs and how to properly assist them

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Apprenticeship is attractive because I love to learn from professionals on actual job sites. I believe it is something that is very beneficial to learning the trade. Going to school and learning in a class, while very valuable as well does not provide the same benefit as on the job-site training.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Working as a stocker and production operator in the food industry has taught me valuable skills that are directly applicable to the pipe trades. In stocking shelves, I learned how to organize and manage materials efficiently, ensuring that everything is easily accessible and in good condition. This skill is crucial in plumbing, where maintaining an orderly workspace and managing materials like pipes and fittings ensures smooth operations and prevents delays.

As a production operator, I developed a strong attention to detail and the ability to follow strict processes and safety protocols. These skills are important in plumbing, where

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I like watching sports. Watching sports can help develop transferable skills for construction trades, particularly in areas like teamwork, strategy, and focus under pressure. Watching how teams work together to achieve a common goal can translate to the collaborative environment of a construction site, where communication and coordination are key. Observing different strategies, adjusting to the flow of the game, and recognizing when to adapt are all useful in a trade like plumbing, where each project may require unique solutions and flexibility.

Additionally, sports often involve a high level of discipline and dedication, traits that are valuable in any career. Whether it's respecting rules, understanding timing, or analyzing

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always been drawn to hands-on work and problem-solving, and the building trades offer a perfect blend of both. The ability to take raw materials and transform them into something functional and essential to people's lives is incredibly satisfying. Plumbing, in particular, caught my attention because it involves a combination of technical skill, creativity, and immediate impact. It's not just about installing pipes; it's about ensuring that homes and businesses have reliable water supply and drainage, which is vital for everyday life.

Additionally, the plumbing trade offers constant learning and growth. With advancements in technology, new materials, and changing building codes, there's always something new Menards, in order to sell plumbing they have an intensive online training book. It taught you the basics of welding copper pipe, installing pipe, installing common household fixtures (toilet, faucets, bathtubs, water heaters), and what is truly needed for the full project.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Again I have family in the trades so I grew up around the hardworking lifestyle, and have some experience with plumbing. Of the trades it stuck out to me because of its importance and variable ways to do the same task.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I have done minor plumbing work for my family and friends. I always loved talking to the experienced plumbers when they came to Menards to learn about more of their trade. Otherwise I have driven across most of southeastern Wisconsin for my jobs in lawn care and parts delivery.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I come from a family of trade workers, my father was a bricklayer, my brother is Class B union driver, and my uncle is an electrician. What specifically got me into plumbing was when I worked at Menards when I was younger. There I was trained and learned the basics of plumbing and have been doing my own fixes for both family and friends.

I have always been a hands on worker, and value hard work for a rewarding career. So trades have always been an appealing career path for me.

Working construction has made me able to accurately measure and cut materials to length. It has also made me familiar with how to access spaces out of my reach (ie ladders), and how to use basic hand tools for demolition and construction.

Working in laboratories has taught me the chemistry of RO water, which helps make decisions on piping material. Laboratories have also helped me to take instruction of particular projects and see them to completion.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It's a real life skill that applies to both professional opportunities as well as being able to help out my friends and neighbors.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Woodworking, mostly lathe experience. Woodworking is all about planning out the dimensions of what is being made, selecting the appropriate joining methods, and applying it all until the product has been made. I have also worked with carrier gasses in laboratories, so I'm familiar with specific fittings/setups for commercial grade gas cylinders.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I have always enjoyed working with my hands, and seeing the results of my labor in front of me after it's finished. I've been good at learning hands on skills quickly. I've worked with lumber from the age of ~13 in one way or another, and enjoyed the process of making things and helping people.

Plumbing drew me as it is a trade that everyone needs in their homes. It's a steady trade that works year round, and will allow me to learn more about how to properly care for my house as well as sustain my family and I. I know that plumbing specifically can carry certain smells, and that I've probably worked with worse between working in labs and visiting my grandpa's farm. I'm excited to help build the circulatory system of houses.

Maintenance exposed me to plumbing for the first time. As little as changing a sink cartridge, changing vacuum breaker for a toilet, and even unclogging sinks with a snake.

Furthermore, from being a CNC operator, sales associate, and AmeriCorps member. These jobs have helped me from being exposed to plumbing parts, gaining patience, giving me the determination to complete a task. Even with small amount of experience in the pipe trades. These soft skills will help me being open minded and teachable in the trade.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is attractive option to me because I want to be able to learn a skill I want to be learning and doing, a career in a trade, and continuous learning.

Why does learning a skill important? It makes one needed and important, not with pride,

As well as, being able to play with regular shoes to more comfortable shoes (cleats). As well as, learning when to read other players from the opposing team tactics.

Now, how do these details translate to how they boost my skills to the construction trades? For starters I am able to adapt to meeting new people regardless of age or skill. Moreover, communication is very important in the field to be able to understand, acknowledge, and communicate with everyone. Furthermore, being able to adapt with what we have and determination to finish a task. Lastly, being aware of those around me

What Interested You in Plumbing?

The interest is being able to be part of team, impact a community, and work hard towards achieving a goal that makes a difference in the community being served. As well as taking pride in what is being created or maintained for the better and doing the right thing the first time and safely.

Plumbing? I have some experience and exposure to plumbing, and every time there is a work order or experience, I get excited and tend to focus more on worked being done or willing to get my hands dirty and do the work. For example, one small thing that started the interest in plumbing was changing a cartridge from a sink. As well as, made a presentation for work on how to change a cartridge from a sink.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

The main reason plumbing interested me is because of my Home. When I first moved into my house the plumbing was awful, there was something always leaking or clogged. My mom would call plumbers who didn't do such a great job and within a month we had another problem. This caused my Mom a lot of money and stress until she found a good plumber that fixed our sink correctly, I seen a sign of relief and happiness in her face. That made me think about all the other people that are going through the same problem that I could help.

When I worked as a diesel mechanic I learned a lot about pipe fitting and plumbing work. That was one of the daily task I had. Everyday we had several trucks come in needing new fitting for air hose lines, brake lines, and hydraulic fittings. When I was working on those systems I really enjoyed what I was doing.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I am currently doing renovations to my house. This has caused me to learn a lot about minor and large aspects of construction. When it comes to making sure I have enough support for my foundation or making sure that my house doesn't have any leaks when it comes to the pipe work.

I always loved working with my hands. Also owning a house has let me work at my own. I learned a lot about what to do. Also what not to do when it comes to flooring installation and also minor plumbing work.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I used to work for A diesel mechanic shop. A lot of the work I was involved in had a lot to do with the hydraulic systems of the trucks. Also, I learned a lot about the fittings, and how to do trial and error. From everything I took from that job it was that I did enjoy working with pipe work.

I also have completed renovations done to my house. It was minor things like a few faucets, shower head, and toilet replacements. It wasn't a lot but I really enjoyed working on the plumbing side of things. I also got to watch as experienced plumbers replaced several of my gas pipes and fittings and really believed I can see myself doing this line of work.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I love to work, and being able to work under someone and learn on the job while getting classroom training has always been the best way for me to catch on. I always loved working with my hands and always wanted to feel like I am contributing to the task at hand.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I have always loved working in the trade. I am currently working at a plumbing company right now and doing gas piping and know everything there is to know about it. I want to get into union though. The trade has always interested me and is definitely what I want to do.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

The union apprenticeship interests me because it is higher pay than non union which is of course great. They take care of you very well. And I look forward to learning so much more in the trade of plumbing.

Casually as a father of three there's always something around the house to fix on so I guess I could consider that a hobby. I've done free lance plumbing work to get some more hands on experience for close ones and in my own residence. Currently tending to two piping issues in my current home that need some tending to. I'm realizing an unfortunate poor habit that's been reoccurring in other piping I've seen especially under kitchen sinks is people not using the primer and cement and sometimes they aren't even screwed together at the connecting points either. Tending to other fixtures around the house I've patched up a few holes using drywall spackle. Definitely enjoy doing paint jobs which I grew up doing all the time with my mom. Far as hobbies I play chess often which equates to better problem solving skills and that definitely can make a big difference between a

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Two years ago I was enrolled in an introduction to trades program with SDC which gave me experience in a few different trades. I graduated at the top of my class with a certification in lead and asbestos removal. Towards the end of the program my father who owns his own lead and asbestos removal company allowed me to give it a try. After a short time I realized I liked it however it wasn't challenging or mentally stimulating enough. Once I ofc silly graduated from the program I ventured into some demolition and carpentry work with another business briefly however I wasn't too fond of how I was being treated for what was supposed to be an "apprenticeship." In hindsight the manager had expectations of my classmate and I knowing a larger magnitude on renovating a home than we essentially knew therefore we weren't able to produce fast enough for his

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Well from the little information I received on apprenticeships it sounds like a great opportunity to do what most companies won't; take the time out to actually train people to effectively do a job only with this you're being paid to learn. There's schools overseas to my understanding that pay their students to go to school which to most Americans I

When I was a teenager I used to be a mason tender/ general concrete laborer. I would later help my brother with cultured stone work and fireplaces on the side. While not directly related to the pipe trades, it was good construction work experience.

My current job is probably even further away from the pipe trades, but currently I manage all paint related inventory for the shop. This includes everything from paint tints to paint gun parts and maintenance. I believe these management skills can come into play as I learn more about plumbing and estimating job's parts and labor.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I've always been a hands on learner. it's hard to internalize mechanical and tactile work through a lecture or through a computer screen. I believe hands on experience and seeing this new knowledge in action is key. Real world scenarios versus curriculum often varies, and this apprenticeship should be the best of both worlds.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Currently I bounce between three hobbies: Fishing, rock climbing, and wrenching on cars.

I think the wrenching hobby helps you understand what you can and cannot do with the tools at hand. As someone who works on European cars "for fun", you have to know what tool to grab, and how to use it to not only properly finish the job, but to also not break anything. I think I have a pretty broad understanding of what most tools are used for, and how to apply that to a working environment.

Rock climbing might not have that big of an overlap with construction, but I think the critical thinking and problem solving skills that come with climbing will help. I'm

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I have always liked the construction trades, I had some experience being a laborer when I was younger. I always liked the variety of all the job sites you visit, constantly changing and learning new things based on the situation you're in. In my experience as a laborer, even though I wasn't super skilled at any particular thing, I always loved to see these huge projects come together.

What draws me to plumbing is the prospect of a reliable technical career doing important work for the public. I've always been a hands on worker. I have a mechanical/ automotive background and I think that mechanical knowledge would lend itself well to learning how to be a great plumber. I recognize that water and its various processes/ transport

In my previous jobs, I gained valuable experience that applies directly to the pipe trades. I was involved in basic plumbing tasks, such as repairing leaks and replacing valves, which helped me understand pipe systems. I also had opportunities to assist with welding repairs, where I learned the importance of precision, safety, and proper tool handling. Additionally, I developed fabrication skills by measuring, cutting, and assembling parts for equipment, reinforcing my attention to detail. These experiences taught me how to read schematics, work efficiently under time pressure, and collaborate with others—essential skills for pipe fitting, welding, and fabrication.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship in plumbing is attractive to me because it offers the opportunity to gain hands-on experience while learning directly from skilled professionals. Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I have had jobs allowing me to learn mechanical skills, including garage door servicing and installs, maintenance work for restaurants, electrical repairs and functionalities, and I have done black pipe, copper pipe, and flex pipe gas plumbing work in new construction homes, as well as some small repairs.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Outside of work I enjoy doing a wide variety of projects around my house in my spare time. I take a lot of pride in my willingness to learn so I will attempt to tackle just about any home project I have. I have renovated my majority of my house myself. I also enjoy woodworking and have recently started learning how to work on cars. I have done some of my own plumbing including repairs at home and have enjoyed learning and seeing how it all works. I believe doing this stuff outside of work has given me a better understanding about how a lot of things in homes operate and their importance. It's made me a lot more comfortable using different tools and helped a lot with my ability to problem solve.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I currently do service work so I am comfortable with harder labor work being in and out of peoples homes. I have done gas piping and worked closely with plumbers and what they do interests me, knowing how much goes into plumbing and how important it is to the world. I am confident it would be a great way to learn and utilize my existing skillset and build upon it to better myself and become a great plumber.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It would be an opportunity to earn while I learn, and offer my skillset to an employer. My goal would be to better myself, while also bettering the company I work with. The opportunity to learn on the job and still support my family allows for a great career choice.

I am 35 years old, have a beautiful family, looking forward to begin the new chapter/career in life.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Creating a legacy for my family is something that is very important to me. The waiting of 5 years to make the money I am currently making is a bit daunting, but after talking with my friends who are in the trades, I knew I should have gotten in when I was 18. I am willing to pay my dues, learn, grow, and eventually teach what I know. I am only 35, and I

I understand all the fundamental construction required skills including problem solving, critical thinking, time management, self efficiency and etc. I can't say I know what I'm getting myself into but i know I'll be ready for it.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I wanted to join an apprentice straight out of high school but ended up choosing a different route unfortunately. I was out of the country recently for a while and realized it's never too late to go back to my previous goals. I wanted a secure job that offers growth and I believe this is the right choice. Like I said previously I enjoy a challenge and this is

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I have a few hobbies that keep me busy when I'm not at work. I enjoying reading on my free time mainly biographies, non-fictions and self help books. This helps better my understanding on things, assist on critical thinking and problem solving. I also enjoy playing sports and going to the gym. I believe everyone should be active in some way. Going to the gym allows me to increase the weight the of whatever it is that needs to moved or carried. It also helps with my cardio, allowing me to work for longer periods of time and increase productivity.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always liked working with my hands since I was a child, I knew the job I wanted would require two things. Using my hands and getting dirty. I know a career in plumbing is a good choice because there's always going to be work in this trade. In my previous jobs and sometimes even in my current job, there's times where we have no work for a couple days, sometimes even for the week. This month has been the slowest I've ever experienced, for someone that likes to pick up extra hours or shifts it's unacceptable. When it comes to work I like a challenge and I know plumbing is going to deliver on that. I also enjoy helping others and offering them my service however that may be.

I worked in foundation and did repair work for drain tiles and things of that nature. So getting the proper draining for the water was mandatory. Which ultimately lead to sump pumps and piping the basic systems for those units.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

One of the most essential trades in the house or in the building. Throughout my career, I recognized the importance of running water and the type of joy it can bring to a person if working properly. I would like to be a part of that.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It not only encourages learning. Not everyone is comfortable doing these types of projects and knowing that I am comfortable and willing to provide that help motivates me.

Jobs that I've had where I have learned skills applicable to pipe trades are Wendy's. Wendy's was able to teach me how to clean pipes and other things thoroughly so that the machine or pipe would be able to flow correctly. This skill has helped me in real life with some home plumbing.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Some hobbies I have is playing guitar and piano. These skills help me find out different ways to play music and express music in other ways. I also play video games which allows me to react and think faster about a problem. These are my hobbies and activities that I do.

The skills that are transferable from my hobbies to construction trades are that they allow me to find out many different solutions to a problem. It allows me to also get more hands on and allow me to think faster on my feet. This is how my hobbies will boost my skills in construction trades .

What Interested You in Plumbing?

What interested me in starting a career in the building trades is that I was always hands on and curious. If there was something I didn't know I would always try to figure out how it worked or how it was built. Building trades will allow me to use my curiosity and skills to help others.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an attractive option to me because it will allow me use my skills and learn new ones as I go. I already have things that I do in my daily life that I go what could I have done differently to solve this problem faster next time. I think the apprenticeship will allow me to learn from those who are wiser and allow me to look at things differently.

What interested me in getting a career in Plumbing is that I was looking for ways that I could use my skills in math and use it to help people fix pipes. I also asked my brothers and teachers what I should go into and they said that they think I should go into plumbing. I did more research and found out that plumbing would allow me to put my skills to use.

I also believe that my experience as a Milwaukee Police Officer will assist with problem solving skills as well as communication skills.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Some of my hobbies include weight lifting, painting, and reading. I believe that that the weight lifting will directly assist in the physical aspect of plumbing when it comes to lifting and moving into different positions. I believe that painting provides me with an edge to "think outside of the box" and provide creative solutions. Reading frequently allows me to comprehend and follow instructions more accurately.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

While looking over trades that are in demand, I found plumbing. After researching more about a career in plumbing I find a lot of interest in the problem solving aspect as well as the hard work ethic required. I have completed 1.5 years of a four year college studying business. I also am RPP certified and have a CDLA.

Years of Full-Time Work Experience:

Relevant Experience Level:

None. Nothing even close-but I'm a hard worker and willing to learn!

Pipe Welding Proficiency:

None

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I like to work out which has improved my physical fitness and taught me discipline, both essential qualities in the construction trades. I also enjoy hunting and fishing, which have taught me patience and precision.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

In my experience working in a warehouse picking split-case, I had to meet productivity expectations which taught me how to work efficiently. During the Covid-19 outbreak, I worked at the temperature desk at a dental office. I enforced rules about wearing proper PPE which did upset people. This job taught me how to interact with difficult patients professionally and respectfully. I believe that this is a skill that is essential to any job that provides a service to other people. My customer service skills were enhanced by working in private security as well.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Growing up, I preferred to participate in hands-on activities because I found them more interesting, which is why I have recently decided to pursue the trades. My most recent job, working private security for a hardware store, has confirmed my interest in the trades. I enjoy talking to the contractors and tradesmen that come and go through the store because they are all down to earth and good people who want to get their jobs done. I like hearing them talk about their jobs because they do good work that helps people.

I specifically became interested in plumbing while researching cholera outbreaks before modern plumbing. Good plumbing made one of the most deadly diseases into an

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It would allow me to learn important skills for my career while working, and introduces me into the union.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I currently work in a company called Cullen through the laborers union. As a Laborer I might not do the same job as a pipe trade but I'm comfortable in the field of construction. I'm comfortable using power tools and gas tools. I'm used to hard work and a lot of working with my hands. I also have been in the field so I understand how things work to a certain extent

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Personally I enjoy being outdoors, and playing sports. This allows me to stay active, which in turns helps me handle heavier projects that the trades may provide. It also means that I'm ok with outside work and comfortable with being outside if needed. Going back to sports, I'm into team sports which helps me be a team player and helps constantly think about my contributions to my team. Similarly in the trades, we're kinda like a team. We need to work together to be able to properly get our job done.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always liked working with my hands. So when I grew older I had the opportunity to enter the Labors union and took it. Recently though I've began to yearn for more knowledge which led me to the conclusion of joining a trade. After thorough research I've decided to move forward with plumbing.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship allows me be able to continue to expand my knowledge while also being able to work. So I'm able to continue my education and work in something I want to become. I also have a son so it's difficult for me to search for a higher education and pay for bills. With an apprenticeship I'm able to make good money and try to become
