Throughout my last jobs, I say I have acquired a lot and learned many skills. How I say they incorporate with the pipe trades is as an online shopper for both Woodman's and Walmart, I worked and work in a fast-paced environment where organization is an important key factor. Not only do I have to be organized, but I also have to be fast to meet production requirements. I say these experiences have taught me the importance of managing time, paying attention to detail, and adapting quickly, all important skills when working in the pipe trades.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

The reason why an apprenticeship is an important option for me is that I like the idea of earning while learning. Also, building my skills directly at the job instead of sitting inside a classroom. The approach of an apprenticeship gives me the chance to understand how the trade works in a real situation and helps me develop the confidence that comes from

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

One of my main hobbies is going to the gym. I am and I have been, very dedicated to this, going from being 200 pounds overweight. I stay motivated to go every day. The discipline I have built in the gym translates well into the trades because it demonstrates how I stay disciplined, how I face the challenges, and put in hard work to see results, no matter how I am feeling that day. Another one of my favorite hobbies is when I am free or off, I help out at my church. which has given me a great chance to work with others, and it has taught me the importance of respecting others. also, I've learned how important it is to communicate with others, support others, and contribute to a shared purpose. These experiences have shown me how I work well with other people and have made me value teamwork qualities that I know are essential in the construction trades, where jobs

What Interested You in Plumbing?

What really interests me the most about this career is the ability to learn a skill that is always in high demand and provides me with the chance to work with my hands and problem solve and see the results of my work right away and be proud of what I did. Also, what stands out to me more is that everywhere I go, every business needs plumbing, and that really puts it into perspective on how important this trade is and how the community depends on it. I also like the opportunity it provides as a career on the stability in this career, and how it gives me the chance to get licensed and hope to have my business one day.

My hobbies would be playing hockey and lacrosse. That has taught me a lot on how to work as a team and using commutation skills. I fix simple things at my house too. I've fixed curtain rods, railing, patching small holes. I have put together cat trees and desks and I also fixed a screen door. I also work at an ice arena and drive the Zamboni. I had the chance to help replace the water pump on the Zamboni. I have also helped fix what's called a snow breaker. Another thing I learned how to use was a tool disc grinder to grind down hockey netting posts. Working at the ice arena has taught me a lot about how to use certain tools. I have to basically have to problem solve everyday when driving the Zamboni. There was this one time where I got stuck on the ice because both gas tanks were empty. What Interested You in Plumbing?

I want to become a plumber because I like working with my hands and problem solving. I'm not really the type of guy to sit at a desk all day and just work on a computer, instead I rather go out and problem solve, using my hands and mind to do so. The second reason I would want to go into plumbing is it pays well, so then I can live comfortably without having to stress about paying bills on time. Another major reason why I want to pursue into plumbing is that it's never going to be taken over by computers or robots. I think everyone is going to need a plumber at some point of their life and I want to be there to support customers with any issue they have. Whether that would be fixing a leak in their pipes or installing something new. I want to be that one person that the customer can count on. I know I'm going to make mistakes early but I'm willing to get better everyday.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It's an attractive option to me because I get to learn from the best people, which are journeymen or master plumber. I would be gaining hands-on experience with them being there and learning what to do and what not to do. Even furthermore to that last response I would also get to ask questions. I believe asking questions would help me understand

I currently work for Menards since October 2024 in the Hardware Section. Some of the tasks I routinely complete are as follows: stocking and categorization of merchandise, keeping the store tidy and organized, responding to customer inquiries, reviewing inventory, disassembling waste, freight, and organizing returns, and transporting heavy and awkward loads. Formerly, I worked at Monk's Bar and Grill, a fast-paced environment. Being a former host, I effectively communicated with coworkers and guests to create a welcoming atmosphere.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an attractive option for me for a variety of reasons. One being I value the end of work done with my own hands. I appreciate helping sustain the basic needs of our communities. Additionally, seeing my work become more than solely a task and transform into something affecting someone's home and life in a positive way.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

As a senior at Sun Prairie West High School, I am committed to pursuing a career in plumbing. Since my sophomore year, I have engaged in construction classes that have broadened my knowledge base, encompassing interior and exterior construction, as well as collaborative projects with Tim O'Brien on home construction. After observing subcontractors on house sites, plumbing became an area of particular interest to me. I am eager to pursue a career that combines the benefits of working as part of a team known for its speed, professionalism, friendliness, and expertise.

Currently, I work weekends at Menards, where I have well rounded my customer service skills and developed the ability to interact effectively with individuals in diverse

I've worked in construction with my grandpa on sidewalks, stairs, and driveways, which taught me how to use tools and work hard in tough conditions. I've also done yardwork and was a lifeguard, which gave me some experience with pool systems and water safety. All of this built my physical strength, problem-solving, and ability to work as part of a team—skills that transfer well to plumbing.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I've developed a range of transferable skills that apply well to the construction trades. My experience in construction with my grandpa taught me how to work with tools, follow directions, and stay focused on quality and safety while doing things like sidewalks, driveways, stairs, and walls. Being a track athlete and lifting weights has built my physical strength, endurance, and discipline important traits for physically demanding work. As a lifeguard and sales associate, I learned how to stay alert, communicate clearly, and work well with others. Yardwork and hands-on tasks have always come naturally to me, and finishing a year of college shows I'm capable of staying committed and learning new things. I'm ready to bring that energy and work ethic into a plumbing apprenticeship.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always been interested in working with my hands and solving practical problems, which is why the trades appeal to me. Plumbing, in particular, stands out because it combines technical skill, problem-solving, and the ability to make a real impact in people's daily lives. I like the idea of learning a skill that's always in demand, offers long-term career stability, and gives me the chance to see the results of my work every day. I'm eager to learn the trade from the ground up and eventually become a skilled professional that others can rely on. I'm drawn to the trades because they offer a clear path to learning valuable, real-world skills without needing a traditional office job. Plumbing, in particular, interests me because it involves technical knowledge, precision, and the ability to troubleshoot in different environments. I like that no two jobs are

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an attractive option to me because it gives me the chance to learn by doing. I've always preferred hands-on work over sitting in a classroom, and I know I learn best when I can actually apply what I'm being taught. After high school, and throughout college, I worked three internships that helped shape my interest in construction and the trades. At 1901 Inc., I got hands-on experience in a commercial plumbing and HVAC environment, where I saw how systems are installed from the ground up; from underground rough-ins to mechanical rooms and final fixtures. I worked alongside plumbing and HVAC designers, drew the plans in Autodesk software, and observed the planning and coordination it takes to keep a job running smoothly. That experience gave me a deep respect for the trade and showed me how essential plumbing is to every project. It also made me realize I enjoyed being out in the field more than behind a desk.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is attractive to me because it offers the best of both worlds: hands-on learning in the field and structured education in the classroom, all while getting paid to grow. I really value the fact that I'm building skills through real experience, not just textbooks, and earning while I learn makes it even more rewarding. I also like the clear

I like to workout which helps the physical nature of the profession. I love basketball too, and learning the game helps me understand the small details of the game which helps make me a very detail-oriented person. This helps me to see "between the lines" and make sure things are done accurately and particular in everything that I do. Playing sports has also helped me to develop a strong work ethic that has helped me in all areas of my life. Although I don't pursue architecture anymore, working and studying in that industry has taught me very helpful construction knowledge that has carried over in the trades.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I originally began my journey in architecture because I liked design, building concepts, and working on creative projects. But over time, I realized I wanted something more physical and hands-on — where I could actually build the things I was drawing. That's what drew me toward the trades. I wanted to be involved in real-world projects from the ground up, and I liked the idea of gaining skills that would always be in demand. Plumbing stood out to me because of the mix of problem-solving, physical work, and the impact it has on every type of building.

Since getting started in plumbing, I've really enjoyed the challenge and variety of the work. I've been on jobs where I used tools like a bandsaw, Super Hawgs, power drills, etc,

Over the course of eight years in landscaping and three years in property maintenance, I've gained valuable hands-on experience that aligns well with the core demands of the pipe trades. These roles taught me how to work with tools, problem-solve in physical environments, and stay focused in challenging conditions. I've become comfortable with manual labor, following safety procedures, and contributing to team-based projects—skills that I believe are directly applicable to success in the pipe trades.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an ideal path for someone like me because I thrive in environments that are physically engaging and hands-on. Sitting in a classroom never matched the way I absorb knowledge, but I learned how to do that while graduating from college in December, and working directly with tools, machines, and experienced professionals is

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

As a former football player and team captain, I gained leadership, teamwork, and communication skills that directly apply to the construction trades, where timing and trust are essential. My dedication to lifting and staying fit reinforces the discipline and physical strength needed for hands-on work. Hunting and fishing have sharpened my patience, attention to detail, and commitment to safety—qualities vital on a job site. Golf has taught me focus, persistence, and composure under pressure, while watching sports fuels my understanding of strategy, roles, and collective success. Altogether, these passions help me bring grit, awareness, and a team-first mindset into any challenging environment.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My interest in the building trades stems from a passion for hands-on work, problem-solving, and the sense of fulfillment that comes from seeing tangible results. All qualities I relied on as a student athlete at UW-Whitewater, where I balanced football and academics to earn a 3.0 GPA. Working in landscaping and property maintenance gave me firsthand experience with the physical demands and technical precision the trades require, and plumbing especially caught my attention for how essential it is to people's everyday lives. I'm drawn to the challenge of recognizing and fixing systems that impact health, comfort, and safety, and I believe my strong work ethic, coachability, and team-oriented mindset make me well-suited for a career where every day presents an opportunity to learn and contribute meaningfully.

I chose plumbing because I think it is the best choice for me and my future.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Because I see it as a better way to learn something than having to go to school for it. It's easier to just learn on the job as you go that way it actually stays with you, rather than learning something in school and by the time you get the job you probably already forgot some of it. Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

My current job i work pouring concrete septic tanks. I have learned how to baffle the tanks and get them ready so that when set the plumbers can hook up pipes and be done. I've also learned how to put elbows on pipes and pour risers so that pipes can be put through there as well.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've grown up around the trades my whole life as my father and uncle work with plasterers and my grandpa and great uncle worked in road construction. My current job is making septic tanks so it made me interested in the plumbing side of the trades.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It helps grow my knowledge in the trades, as well as help to better myself and my family by growing in a career.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

When I was younger, I spent time helping my grandpa with his plumbing company, which gave me early exposure to the trade and sparked my interest in it. I learned how to use basic tools, observe repairs, and understand how plumbing systems work. That experience taught me the value of hard work, attention to detail, and customer service. Starting at a young age helped me build a strong foundation, and I believe it gives me a head start in becoming a reliable and dedicated plumbing apprentice.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an attractive option to me because it allows me to learn a valuable trade through hands-on experience while earning a living. I appreciate the opportunity to work alongside experienced professionals, gaining practical knowledge and real-world skills that can't be learned in a classroom alone. Instead of taking on debt through

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

My hobbies of hunting and working on cars have helped me develop skills that I believe would make me a strong plumbing apprentice. Hunting has taught me patience, focus, and attention to detail, all of which are important when diagnosing and fixing plumbing issues. Working on cars has given me hands-on experience with tools, mechanical systems, and troubleshooting—skills that directly translate to plumbing work. Both hobbies have helped me become more disciplined, problem-solving oriented, and comfortable working in different environments, which I believe will help me succeed in this trade.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I am interested in plumbing because it offers a hands-on, problem-solving career with long-term stability and growth. I enjoy working with tools, diagnosing issues, and applying practical solutions to real-world problems. Plumbing appeals to me because it is a skilled trade that plays a vital role in people's daily lives, ensuring their comfort, safety, and sanitation. I am eager to learn, gain experience, and build a career where I can continue developing my skills while making a meaningful contribution to my community.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I like hands on work I did landscaping once for the summer and loved it. I love to work on things and see good results. The union has great benefits and is fair. Plus I would like to go to school so learning this can be a getaway to that. I like plumbing individually because the problem solving and skills it takes. Having to know the blueprint and where everything is and deal with water and gas systems seem fun to work on and great to learn. Also the job demands is high I don't have to worry about not getting work or not being able to work for whatever reasons.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I can get great hands on experience while also learning. Also the guidance it can give me to grow as a man. Also once I learn everything from bottom to top I can probably have my own company.

I currently work as a Correctional Officer, a role that has taught me how to problem-solve even the most challenging tasks. I have also learned to effectively manage stressful and uncomfortable situations, strengthening my ability to stay composed under pressure.

Through numerous training classes, I have developed strong learning skills, which have allowed me to excel in a demanding field. Being a Correctional Officer has reinforced the importance of teamwork. The ability to collaborate and work as part of a team is an invaluable skill in any profession.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an attractive option because it combines classroom instruction with hands-on learning. It allows you to apply concepts learned in class directly to on job experiences. I appreciate knowing that I am gaining valuable experience while also receiving income.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I have a huge passion for building and working on vehicles. I enjoy everything from replacing fluids to pulling engines and painting. I love learning how things work and understanding their function. Getting my hands dirty and tackling a project, no matter how frustrating—gives me a great sense of accomplishment, especially when I see the final result after problem-solving and hard work.

I also enjoy building small models. Being able to construct something over several days and watch its progression is incredibly rewarding. This hobby has taught me patience and the importance of following instructions to successfully complete a project.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

The building trades offer stability and job security while also providing strong earning potential. All three of these aspects are incredibly appealing. It's reassuring to know that you can build a career without worrying about limited opportunities for advancement.

The world will always need skilled professionals in the plumbing field, and that certainty makes a career in plumbing extremely desirable to me. Water is a necessity, and plumbers play a vital role in ensuring access to reliable water for homes, businesses, and communities.

I believe these skills will help me on the job and give me reassurance and therefore will make me a better worker/team member on whatever job I'm doing.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I like working with my hands, not always working at the same place, I'm not afraid to do jobs that others won't, and I just feel like plumbing is a very rewarding career and it'll be perfect for me.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship will offer me the chance to earn money while I'm learning. Also, I'll be able to have a meaningful career and something to be proud of. College wasn't for me so an apprenticeship in a hands-on career I believe would be perfect for me.

My experience working at Invisible Fence Brand and as a freelance landscaper has equipped me with hands-on skills and a strong work ethic that are directly applicable to a career in the pipeline trade. In both roles, I regularly used power tools such as drills, saws, and augers, which enhanced my proficiency in operating equipment safely and efficiently-a crucial aspect of pipeline work. Additionally, tasks like digging trenches, installing posts, and handling materials have strengthened my physical stamina and attention to detail, ensuring precision and quality in every project.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Apprenticeships are an attractive option to me because they offer a unique combination of hands-on experience and financial stability. Unlike traditional education paths that often come with significant debt, apprenticeships allow people to earn while they learn, providing immediate income and practical skills development. Additionally, the satisfaction derived from completing hands-on projects has deepened my appreciation for tangible work and reinforced my commitment to pursuing a trade career.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I'm drawn to the pipeline trade because it offers a unique combination of high earning potential, job stability, and opportunities for career advancement. The industry is integral to energy infrastructure, providing essential services that support communities and economies. Additionally, the dynamic work environments and the chance to contribute to significant projects make this field both challenging and rewarding.

At my current job, I'm a maintenance technician for a property management company. Every week, work orders come in for simple pipe maintenance. On a regular basis, I perform drain and pipe replacements. I've even begun to tackle more nuanced and complicated issues that have to do with building-wide water management. I've also worked in construction. Learning to work for a contractor is a different and new experience. You understand the expectations that come with showing up early in the morning and working your butt off everyday. You gain an appreciation for the consistency and intelligence it takes to move from job to job fluidly, while balancing efficiency and quality of work.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I'm ready to start a career and build a skillset that is transferrable to new jobs. By starting an apprenticeship, I guarantee to myself that I can build on my career if I do decide to change jobs.

I have grown tired of working hard and not getting recognized for my expertise at jobs.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I coach high school boys tennis. Interacting with kids from different backgrounds helps you stay grounded in how different people are from different backgrounds. Staying present and listening to each kid's story forces me to stay open to all different types of people. Just as in any other business, relationships are crucial in a plumbing career. Being able to be open to people from all types of backgrounds and personality types sets me up to be able to form relationships with co-workers, bosses and clients in the future. I also practice meditation. Meditation is about teaching your mind to be nonjudgmental and to simply focus on what's going on right now. It trains me to stay out of my constantly running thoughts. Being able to focus and streamline what's important in the moment is a vital skill to optimizing your time as a plumber.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I'm 25 now, and I finally feel like I'm ready to start a career. It took me a while to figure out what I like, but I now know the type of work I like. I've been working construction/manual labor jobs for almost a half-decade now and it's the work I enjoy most. I enjoy being on all my feet all day as well as the exercise that comes with hard manual labor. I like diversity in my day to day work.

Plumbing interested me because I like the simple yet complicated nature of the task. The task is simple, to transport water from one place to the other. But the implementation is infinitely complex. That complexity appeals to me.

I enjoy working out regularly, which helps me stay in good physical condition for the demands of hands-on work. I also like to spend time around the house using hand tools for various projects, such as repairs and improvements, which has developed my comfort with tools and attention to detail. Additionally, I have a passion for landscaping, where I work on outdoor projects that require problem-solving and physical labor, further strengthening my skills in working with my hands.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always found plumbing to be an interesting and practical trade. After spending three years pursuing a different major in school, I realized it wasn't the right fit for me. I spent a lot of time reflecting on my future career, and I came to the conclusion that I want to work in the trades. Out of all the trades, plumbing stood out to me because of its variety, hands-on nature, and the important role it plays in everyday life. I've since researched the field and have become even more excited about the opportunity to learn the skills and craftsmanship that go into becoming a plumber. I am eager to start my apprenticeship and commit to building a career in plumbing.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is attractive to me because it offers hands-on experience while earning a wage. I believe learning in a real-world setting with skilled professionals is the best way to develop the necessary trade skills. It also provides the opportunity for learning, certification, and career stability.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I've had 2 jobs that were in California. One was called r.c plumbing and the other was adapt plumbing. I learned a variety of skills. Worked on faucets, water heaters, tankless water heaters. Gas lines, outside hose bibs, laundry lines, sewer and drain jobs. I learned a lot in the 2 years I worked at both jobs.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My 2 brothers are well established in their respective careers. My eldest brother is a journeyman in the plumbing field. The middle brother is currently a registered nurse. Thirdly my girlfriend is also a registered nurse. Seeing all them so successful & supportive I wanted to do whatever I can to be successful like them. I'm very interested in my future well as my knowledge & skillset. Nothing more then I want to be successful & support my family. I love to work with my hands and I'm willing to do anything I can to get into a trade.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Being successful is very important to me. Learning how to fix things in my own home is very intriguing. Being useful as a man to the women and friends in my life. I would love to be able to provide for my loved ones and create a family. Having a respectable career is valuable to me as well. Everyone around me is successful in their own way and that's what

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I've been working with a contractor for about 4 months where I use power tools that a plumber might use.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I think going into a trade will make more money than going to college. My uncle who's worked construction his whole life thinks plumbing would be what he'd get into if he was my age now.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An apprenticeship is an attractive option for me because I'll be making money while I learn, and eventually I'll get my journeyman's license and make even more.

As an Ammunition Technician in the Marine corps I developed strong technical skills in understanding the systems and processes. I also developed a strong attention to detail. My ability to problem solve in a safe and effective manner can also apply. Lastly My ability to work as a team and communicate effectively would definitely translate well.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I enjoy fixing things around the house as well as gardening. Gardening from a young age as given me a spatial eye and strong attention to detail.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

When I got out of the Marine corps I got into contact with Helmets 2 Hardhats- A Veteran program helping guide towards career paths of interest. I have always been someone who enjoys working with my hands and working hard. I would be just as prideful if not more building a career as a plumber

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

An Apprenticeship will give me hands on experience which has always been the way that I learn best. It will also allow me to have networking opportunities within plumbing. I'll have developed the skills I need to build a strong career I can be proud of.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I'm just recently out of high school so I haven't really learned any skills besides a class in high school and helping my dad around the house.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Hunting and fishing have taught me to be patient with things and to take my time, not rushing things.

Doing sports has taught me that I have to continuously work at things to improve and that they don't just come on their own.

I'm very adventurous and love to go out and do new things and get out of my comfort zone

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I've always wanted to work with my hands and doing work like that has always interested me. As a kid/teen I would always take broken things and take them apart and try to fix them by myself.

Another reason why this interests me is because my dad is currently a plumber in the union and not necessarily the fact of wanting to be like my dad but looking up to him and admiring the work he does. I want to work hard and work with my hands while still doing work that is vital to society. I've always had a drive to work and get things done and I feel like this would be the perfect opportunity for me.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

My dad and I have discussed the advantages of an apprenticeship in detail and there are several reasons an apprenticeship is attractive to me. I like working with my hands and believe the hands-on experience from the start is appealing. Having the guidance of experienced professionals will allow me to learn faster and develop my skills rather than

I've worked in retail for 12 years, the past 4 as a department head. While I have no specific trade skills I have learned a good work ethic and have learned to manage a small group of people. My position is largely unsupervised on a daily basis which means I've developed a lot of initiative toward getting my work done without needing to be micro management. I'm also capable of handling responsibility of thousands of dollars of retail orders on a daily basis with minimal error.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I've been part of an esports team and am very comfortable working as part of a team to achieve a larger goal.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I am interested in a career change and have always been drawn toward the blue collar type of work in general. Sitting at a desk isn't for me. Trades provide compelling compensation with strong union backing for worker protections.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Being able to learn and progress while making a living wage is critical to a potential career for me. I am a homeowner and a family man with obligations and need an income.

I learned common practices and the work ethic- that is needed to perform at a high level. I have also learned the items that are needed to perform a job.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My father was formerly a plumber. I realized the opportunities that it provided for him. I enjoy working with my hands, problem solving as well as using my head to solve these problems. I am currently a youth apprentice and I thoroughly enjoy the work.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I never really saw myself going to college. Throughout my high school career I have prepared myself to be able to attend college. But I realized that I working with my hand and being able to earn while I learn is the best option for me.

I love to hike and be outdoors. Im not afraid of getting rough and enjoy physical activity. I have a high tolerance for heat and the cold and could work in any conditions. I like to read and adsorb information I can apply in a practical way. I find learning the easiest when I know its purpose. Everything you learn in trades has a purpose and know I would enjoy applying that purpose to what I do.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

The trades have always interested me especially plumbing. I work well with my hands and like to see the work I do apply in a practical sense. I'm a quick learner and have a good work ethic. The trades are a place where I know I would be proud of what I do and find a purpose in my career.

Being able to learn and grow in my career is a big thing for me. Most jobs are stale and dead end, but in trades you never stop learning. Plumbing is something I find very interesting and know I can do a great job.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Apprenticeships are something that anyone with a good work ethic and a willingness to learn can excel at. I know I possess these qualities. I want to grow in my career and have pathways to do so. Apprenticeships will allow me to fulfill these wishes and do some work that actually helps people.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

Maintenance- I have learned to solder from changing water heaters, central A/C, working on boilers and zone valves. I also have repaired the pipe and ran all the new pipe. I am on call for frozen pipes, no heats, water heaters going out and much more.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I have wrestled since the age of 3 and wrestled until my junior year in college at UW Parkside. Wrestling has taught me to be resilient during any circumstance. It has taught me to work hard, show up early and to give my all in anything I pursue.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I currently work for my uncle who is a landlord on the south side of Madison. I currently am maintenance for our properties. I am on call for any emergency. I have worked with multiple people that are skilled in plumbing, electrical, framing and landscaping. I would like to become certified in the plumbing trade to better my future.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I would like to set up my future as well as begin to build a family. I believe becoming a plumbing apprentice would greatly impact my future for the better.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I was discussing doing some kind of major career change with my mother, something challenging, and when she suggested plumbing the idea stuck in my mind.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I would like to work towards a career that has a lot of room for growth, and has a consistent schedule.

Earlier this week, I shadowed my cousin on the job to get a feel for the trade. He's an apprentice plumber in the Appleton area.

Like I said I've been a commercial painter for Northland painting, so I think many skills on a job site are pretty transferable. I've had to work 15 hour days before work weekends do the low level work when my bosses didn't want to. I also know if I get offered a job I will put more work in then everyone else I want to better myself. I also have some basic plumbing knowledge from just home repairs on toilets and sinks.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I really just want to learn I am a hard worker and I like seeing results. I like when there is a problem and you know you can fix it like that's how I like to work so I think plumbing would be a good fit. I also want to work as much as I can I'm young and I know this is the time I can work my butt off and start saving money. Also I heard the union protects its

I have worked on small engines in the past so I know how to go through a process to figure out what is wrong and how to fix it. I feel like that helps in any job but especially plumbing because you need to be able to fix things. I also just am somewhat handy I have done drywall tiling and other home projects so I think I could handle plumbing.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I was working on a job site as a commercial painter this summer in a middle school and I met a pipe fitter and he was showing me what the job was about and he said it was fun not to hard on his body and he enjoyed the job. I also just like working with my hands and would say I'm fairly smart so I think I could do the job. And I know the trades are in need of younger people and I'm ready to have a real career

Looking at angles and measurements to be successful. In construction trades math skills and problems solving are daily skills I would need.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My father is an ironworker for Local 383 in Madison. I have always been interested in the trades. Since I have been looking in to careers after high school I have been drawn to Plumber and Electrician. I am a hard worker and a hands on learner. I feel plumbing would be a great fit for me.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Sitting in classes to learn is not necessarily my strong suit. I learn better through hands on learning and watching the task in person. I think an Apprenticeship is the perfect plan for me. I am very similar to my father and the ironworker Apprenticeship was a perfect fit for him.

I also live on a farm so I have experience building and fixing things. I have also done mission work with my church group the past 6 years and we did a great deal of carpentry work.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I'm interested in plumbing because it offers a unique combination of problem-solving, hands-on work, and the opportunity to make a real difference in people's lives. The satisfaction of diagnosing and fixing issues, whether it's a clogged drain or a faulty pipe, is incredibly rewarding. I enjoy the challenge of troubleshooting and the technical aspects of the job, as no two situations are exactly the same. Additionally, plumbing is a vital skill that provides security and a sense of accomplishment, knowing that I can help maintain the essential systems that keep homes and businesses running smoothly. It's a field that allows me to constantly learn and grow, while also providing a sense of fulfillment through practical, meaningful work

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

I have always enjoyed working outside so I am aware of the demands that come with working in different elements throughout the year. I also am familiar with working with my hands and getting things done myself. If there is a problem with something around the house or with my car, I'd rather do it myself so I am able fix similar problems in the future. Sports have always been a big part of my life so I am aware of the steps needed to work as a team to reach the desired outcome.

I am eager to try new things that I don't have a lot of experience in. This way I am able to be more well rounded as an individual. The past few years I have picked up snow removal during the winter so I am familiar with working odd hours to complete the job at hand.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I have many family members and friends who work in the trades, so I am aware of the benefits and opportunities that come with it. I am also looking for a long term career that will set myself up for the future. The building trades have always interested me because I enjoy the hands on work that is involved and being able to do multiple things throughout the work day.

The plumbing industry has my interest because my two brothers are in similar lines of work and they only have good things to say about it. The complex work that is done sounds like a great fit for me because it will allow me to become knowledgeable in countless areas of everyday requirements.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I think it's an attractive option for me because I will get the opportunity to get hands on training for the work I will be doing in the future. I also like the idea of "earn while you learn" because I will be able to continue to learn new things while they become more applicable to my line of work. I worked for a sprinkler company this past year and I learned some skills that would apply to the pipe trades. Things like putting fittings on pipe, cutting pipe and then everything involved with connecting the system to the water out coming from the house. We would usually use a Galvanized T to do this and sometimes a vacuum breaker too. I also have experience going into peoples houses to shut off their water to the system before we blow it out in the winter.

I am interested in pursuing a career in the trades because I enjoy working with my hands and solving practical problems. Plumbing also offers a combination of technical work and most importantly, the opportunity to make a real difference in people's lives. I am eager to learn from experienced professionals, and I believe that the plumbing trade offers long-term job stability and growth opportunities. Additionally, I value the hands-on nature of the work and the satisfaction that comes with seeing a project through "from start to finish".

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I have the chance to learn while getting payed and have a pretty secured job with the company sponsoring me unlike other traditional college degrees where you can finish your education and still have no job. Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

One of my hobbies is that I play guitar and perform at open mic nights. The skills of doing this hobby helps me build my confidence in front of peer and the audience. Helps me with hand-eye coordination and multitasking. I'll sometimes perform with other people and that helps me build team work on learning new songs. If I set my mind on learning a new song it does not take me that long to learn it.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I wanted to do something different. I know someone that is in the trades for plumbing that enjoys it so I decided to give it a try. I also got interested because of the benefits of the job and those benefits can help me in the future when I eventually start a family. I want a job that will help me progress and build me as I grow.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

It would be something new and exciting for me. I would be able to work my way up as I go. I believe it will help build my future and help build me. I think I would be good at the job.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

My first job was with my dad and uncles they owned a contracting company called Heider Construction. We would do concrete and patios and small brick work so I started learning then how to use tools and skid steers. After my father passed away I joined a local non union HVAC company (Footville heating and cooling) And I did piping, Drains and PVC.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I was doing new construction installs putting up heat runs, flex, duct work. Doing PVC and gas piping and I really enjoyed it. Working everyday with a good amount of plumbers I always found plumbing to be more interesting to me and as I have worked with PVC and piping before I know the fundamentals of plumbing.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I've been on my own since 16 years old and am just trying to make a life for myself. I know an apprenticeship will teach me everything I need to know and I will enjoy the camaraderie working with other plumbers.

I have had the positions of "Customer Service Associate", "Shift Lead", and "Pharmacy Technician" all at Walgreens. Throughout these positions I have learned important skills ranging from being handed a problem, or difficult situation, and being tasked with solving it. To being responsive on my feet; reporting issues when they arise to settle them as soon as possible. As well as gaining that leadership edge to be able to direct a team of people to accomplish tasks and goals most efficiently!

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

The reason I find apprenticeship such a great option is because of that direct relationship you have between education and work. I want my education and learning to translate into the full time job for a company I will be working with. It is also attractive because as I increase my skills/productivity not only will that benefit the business I work with, but it

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

For one, I like to stay physically active by going to the gym. At the gym I like to weight lift to increase my size and strength. I was also a big runner. All of this gives me the flexibility, strength, and endurance that many others on the site may not have. Allowing me to hold positions longer, reach usually uncomfortable positions, or hold my own for periods of time.

As for another, I like to watch and read up on DIY (Do It Yourself) projects such as camper conversions and the construction of mini homes. A lot of this has given me some insight not only into basic plumbing systems, but basic construction and electrical systems as well!

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I was always skeptical about the traditional college approach. I love the idea of being able to receive relevant on-the-job education that translates directly into the work that I will be doing! I also love the idea about having a career with a company, and working hard on my skills to climb the ranks; increasing my productivity and being justly rewarded! As for plumbing, I find it unique in how versatile and important it is to America's workforce and infrastructure. Plumbing/piping is what runs our homes, and our businesses. Plumbing knowledge can be used in so many ways to help our communities grow and become stronger craftsmen. I want to learn to do it correctly, provide safe and effective systems, and increase my knowledge to become the best worker I can be!

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I worked at a manufacturing plant here in Wisconsin called Volrath. During my time there I learned how to be comfortable around large machinery. In addition being able to keep on task and focus at the job at hand. Fulfilling quotas and making sure they were sent out at the desired time frame.

My current place of employment M of N Vapors is a small business. With the time I've spent here I've learned how to deal with troubleshooting problems and maintain the goods hand in hand with the products that we sell. Along with dealing with people who have no knowledge about the sphere I work in. By taking the time to educate a new customer on how the products work and how they are utilized for their benefit.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

What drew me to look into trade apprenticeships. Would be the level of support which they provide throughout the process. Obtaining the skills I will need in a hands on environment. Additionally being with people who I believe will have a similar mindset to myself.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

When comes to hobbies I enjoy that could benefit me in the construction trades. Spending as much time as I can outside. Examples being camping, hiking, or as simple as mowing the lawn. They would mirror my capable endurance under different conditions. As well as focusing on finishing and prepping for the obstacle at hand.

Other activities that I regularly partake in that I believe would work in my favor. My current place of employment. I help run and maintain a small business where the market is still new but very saturated. Examples being working face to face with our customer base. Teaching people how to use and maintain the products we provide and that they purchase. Troubleshooting problems for our customers no matter how big or small the issue at hand is. In particular I feel I am very personable, resourceful, and open minded.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I would say what drew my interest to pursue a career to the trades in general. Job security, having the piece of mind that the skills I would learn would be in demand. No matter what the job market outlook should come to be in the longterm. As well as the range of avenues and opportunities in trade spaces themselves. Whether be working for a company or following a path of self employment down the road. The ability to do hands on work building maintaining a community's infrastructure. Taking pride in helping people. Working with a team or at my own pace.

Why being a plumber is my point of interest to go after. Plumbers are given a level of respect within the trade space. From talking to a handful of tradesman who have work with plumbers in a hands on environment. Water and it's applications are one of the

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I haven't had any jobs where I would have skills for plumbing. Just work experience on being on a team.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

My dad and I do work around the house. Like last summer I helped the people we hired to put up new drywall in our kitchen. Or my dad and I put a new water heater and water softener in our house, and we had to solder new joints into the pipes, and the only one my dad soldered is the one that leaked. Also for most of my life I was in sports and scouts, so I know how to be a team player.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

When I was a sophomore in high school last year, I still did not want to know when I grew up. I was in a metals design class and my teacher sent my class on a field trip to go to a Sheetmetal's union place and I heard about the benefits in the union I thought it was amazing. And on a different field trip to Hooper, and they toured every part of their building trades. And the plumbing section was my favorite, I was also intrigued because I did really good on the soldering part. and that day is when I decided to be in the trades and apart of the plumbing trades.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

Because I don't have any interest in any other careers. Most other careers require a college diploma and they have a wait list and their entry level job needs work experience. That and I don't want to work at a grocery store for the rest of my life.

Working in landscaping has given me a hands-on understanding of outdoor environments and the importance of proper drainage systems. This experience has heightened my awareness of the significance of efficient plumbing systems in various settings, including outdoor spaces.

Overall, my diverse work history has equipped me with a range of skills, from communication and problem-solving to hands-on experience with outdoor environments and structural systems. I am eager to leverage these skills in a plumbing apprenticeship and continue to learn and contribute effectively to the field.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I'm inspired by the opportunity that a career in plumbing presents to continually learn and grow. The field is constantly evolving with advancements in technology and sustainable practices, offering endless possibilities for professional development and innovation.

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

In addition to my interest in plumbing, I have diverse hobbies and activities that have equipped me with valuable skills applicable to the construction trades. For instance, my passion for writing has enhanced my communication skills, an essential aspect in any collaborative work environment. Crafting clear and concise messages is crucial when conveying information on job sites or discussing project details.

Music creation has nurtured my ability to work methodically and rhythmically, qualities that can be translated into the meticulous planning and execution required in plumbing tasks. The discipline and organization involved in music production are transferable to managing projects efficiently.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I'm drawn to the building trades due to the dynamic nature of the industry and the opportunity it provides to make tangible contributions to the built environment. My diverse work experiences, ranging from sales to landscaping and commercial roofing, have instilled in me a deep appreciation for the importance of functional and well-maintained infrastructure in our daily lives.

I have had small bouts of work in carpentry, once as a labor helper for a few months with an uncle and his boss, another for a few months as a laborer with a carpenter who was building homes on his own. I had very little training but did pick up a few things here and there. For the past few years i have worked for seneca foods in Baraboo. It is a can manufacturing plant. I worked on the can assembly line for three plus years. I have had the opportunity to work with different types of hand tools, power tools, measuring tools of various kinds. Lots of troubleshooting and repair experience. The little experience I have plumbing would be when I helped replace water supply fittings for the water pump on a machine called a bodvmaker. Water lines were one inch inside diameter. When all

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I want to apprentice so that I will learn a valuable skill the right way. I want both hands on and book based learning. Over the past three plus years I have worked in a factory as a maintainer and learned so many skills that I will be able to utilize for the rest of my life. I have overcome many obstacles at work and at home because of the work I put in learning

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Woodworking is a very part time hobby, but I have worked with many types of tools and enjoy refurbishing old items which does not always turn out how i planned but always looks good when completed. Hunting/fishing I will work on stands, guns, my boat, fishing poles, patience, troubleshooting. I work on my vehicles when im able, I wont tear apart an engine or anything major but can change spark plugs, fix a flat, change brakes, suspension, basically anything that doesnt require a lift or large/expensive equipment or special training. I rent my home but care for the lawn and snow removal, so I have learned to maintain the lawn mower, leaf blower, trimmers, snow blower, etc.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I want to master a skill I can use the rest of my life that will always be needed. I enjoy working with my hands but also my head. I do well in jobs where I can see the physical manifestation of a hard days work. I also desire to work where I am able to learn and to be mentally stimulated.

I am actually currently in the laborers union, aside from that I love carpentry work as a hobby and im still learning a lot about that as well. My dad is a small engines mechanic so im always looking to help him out if I can as well.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

Ive been interested for a while, also some of my friends are in the plumbers union and they all love it and they make great money on top of it. Also another thing is, as long as the world keeps expanding (which it will) plumbing will always be a necessity for everyone. Plumbing is great because if something fails I will be able to fix it myself

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

With the apprenticeship program you can learn a lot about a lot, and as someone who wants to be the best they can be at what they do I believe you should be able to get the best schooling there is

I have worked since I was 14, probably even younger. But I don't have much experience in the trades. I worked for Culver's for 4 years, and other fast food places in between or during that's job. And I currently am a lead at national oak distributors warehouse. We sell body shop supply stuff, not too essential unless if you got a nice car you want to baby. It is safe to say I don't have many hobbies or jobs that relate to the trades.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I want to learn new skills. With an apprenticeship, I can learn while on the job. I am making money while learning about the profession. In todays world, you can't really afford to take time to learn before you earn. When being completely financially independent, you can't take time off of work for school, so it's nice that an apprenticeship allows you to

What Interested You in Plumbing?

I am interested in a job field where i can grow and learn new things. I don't have too much room to grow at my current job, making it hard to earn good money and make a living. It is stressful going to a job that doesn't care much for the employee and only about profit and numbers. You can be the best worker they have and still get compensated the same as weakest link. I feel in the trades you get what you give. You work hard, you keep moving up. I have heard a lot of good things from my friends and family that work in the trades. I have also heard negative things but you'll have that anywhere.

I grew up with the mindset that going into the trades is just as good as college, In some cases better. Just because you go to college doesn't guarantee success. Nothing does, but

Tell Us About Any Relevant Hobbies:

Relevant Experience Level:

Some. I have worked for a plumbing contractor.

Pipe Welding Proficiency:

Tell Us About Any Relevant Jobs :

I currently work in sanitary stainless steel, I have helped my dad with plumbing at home and friends houses, I've grown up doing jobs in all sorts of trades and just enjoy working with my hands and being active.

What Interested You in Plumbing?

My dad has his master plumbers license so I've learned a lot about it from him and have wanted to do it for a while and then I went into welding while in high school and have continued since I graduated working full time welding and grinding stainless steel and want to pursue a career in welding instead.

Why are you exploring an apprenticeship program?

I want to be a plumber apprentice and work up to a master plumber as a career
